Senior management changes

GPE is pleased to announce several senior management role changes and promotions. These will support and enhance the delivery of our market-leading, customer-first approach to meet today's key occupier themes of flexibility, service delivery and amenity provision in well-designed, tech-enabled and sustainable spaces.

- Steven Mew will move from Portfolio Director to take on the newly-created role of Customer Experience and Flex Director, with responsibility for overall leadership of our flexible office space activities and customer experience initiatives;
- Simon Rowley will be promoted from Head of Office Leasing to Director of Office Leasing and Flex, with oversight of the delivery of our flexible office activities, whilst retaining responsibility for office leasing across the Group;
- Dan Nicholson, Executive Director, who joined GPE in September 2021, will take on the leadership of the Portfolio Management team whilst retaining overall responsibility for the Group's development activities; and
- Anisha Patel (currently Head of Marketing) will be promoted to Director of Marketing to support and broaden both our customer and stakeholder engagement.

In addition, we have also recently recruited Katie Lin, Workplace Design Lead, and Jack Kelly, Senior Operations Manager, to further support the acceleration of our flexible office space rollout.

Toby Courtauld, Chief Executive, commented: 'As we refine and expand the choice of spaces we provide, these changes further align our team to ensure we are meeting our customers' needs and will help us build deeper connections with both our partners and the communities where we operate.'
